

“Wesleyan Meadows has made retirement more enjoyable.”

—Judy McDonald, Resident

Since Wesleyan Meadows takes care of all interior and exterior maintenance, Judy McDonald finds more time to pursue hobbies like gardening, woodworking—and now, oil painting.

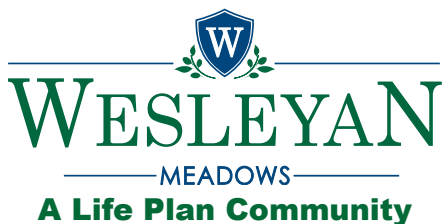

“Of the many activities available, I believe I enjoy oil painting most—which is a new interest for me. I have learned so much from a resident who teaches classes,” Judy explains. Book discussions, potlucks, coffee hours and volunteering, she also notes, “provide the chance to remain active and purposeful in retirement.”

Judy likes the location and close proximity to highways, shopping and entertainment. And for her, “the nearby community college is a definite plus.”

Yes, retirement does sound truly enjoyable.
